The most elaborate and delightful dance of the year was given last Saturday evening at the beautiful A. P. Green home on South Jefferson street when the Beta Sigma Omicron active chapter and alumnae entertained with Miss Elizabeth Green in honor of the pledges. A formal dance is always attractive for the girls in their beautiful new evening frocks and the gentlemen in full dress always add to the attractiveness of the ballroom. On this occasion the ballroom was the entire lower floor of the Green home which Mr. and Mrs. Green so generously had offered for the occasion. The entire lower floor was a bower of flowers, huge pink chrysanthemums were used profusely in all the rooms. The Burke orchestra of Moberly furnished the music throughout the evening. A receiving line was formed in the living room before the dance with Miss Green at the head and the pledges Misses Julia Ann Hannah, Mildred Orcutt, Martha Ann Bibb, Helen Hall, Katherine Stripe, Mildred Dixon, Josephine Clark, Elizabeth White, Mary Cordelia Mason and Betsey Worrell, and Martha Green with her. In the library the active chapter formed a receiving line to meet the young men who were invited. An elaborate three-course lunch was served by Cateress Scott, at 10:30, then dancing again was enjoyed till 12 o'clock when good nights were said. Favors of the evening were silver match cases with the sorority emblem on them for the gentlemen and silver pencils for the girls. Between dances the beautiful terrace garden was most attractive for the dancers. Among the gentlemen present to meet the young ladies were: Messrs. Jesse Gibbs, Ralph Garrett, Rodes Jesse, Richard Barth, Louis Barth, Ed Gooch, E. G. Eley, Victor Cunningham, Glenn Squires, Harry Stocks, Chas. Guthrie, Bryan Wilson, John Dearing, Blake Williams, Curtis Mitchell, Wallace Fry, A. R. Dallmeyer, Rolla McIntyre, Nisbet Livingston, George Will Robertson, Morris Keath, Captains Marquess Wallace, Raymond Moore, W. G. McColey, Charles Stribling, Messrs. Maurice and Hall Pearson, Les Allen of Columbia, J. D. Fry, Louisiana, Bill Carr, Bowling Green, Howard Keath, St. Louis, Wm. Walker Johnson, Fulton, and Frost, of Fulton. The dance programs were attractive engraved with the sorority emblem on the back and red and pink cards and pencils attached. The delightful evening, beautiful home and charming young ladies, besides the most gorgeous decorations with the delightful presence of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Green will be long remembered and cherished by everyone who was present.
